Ana,

I can confirm that we will have the parking garage open on that day.

Best regards,

Good morning Lorena:

I hope all is well.

This forum will attract a large number of participants so we are trying to prepare as far out in advance as possible. That being said, we would like to use the Vue parking structure, as we did with the Homeless Forum. I know that the PBID has a contract for use of those parking spaces. Is this something you are able to assist us with?

Thank you in advance.

Sincerely,
Ana

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LAPD CHIEF CHARLIE BECK TO HEADLINE LA FORUM ON CRIME

WHAT: Violent crime in Los Angeles climbed nearly 20 percent and property crime increased 10 percent citywide in 2015. In the Harbor Division, overall violent crime was up 34 percent, and property crimes went up nearly 17 percent.

South Los Angeles experienced its deadliest August since 2007 with 15 people killed in just a two-week period.

All 21 LAPD divisions reported crime increases this year.

This is why Councilman Joe Buscaino will be presenting the Los Angeles Forum on Crime on Thursday, February 4 at the Warner Grand Theater in San Pedro.

The featured speakers will be LAPD Chief Charlie Beck, LAPD Police Commission president Matthew Johnson, and Assistant Commanding Officer of South Bureau Phillip Tingirides.

"We know the residents of Los Angeles are frustrated by the spike in crime and deserve answers," said Buscaino.

The speakers will address the new challenges of policing cities which are enduring a rise in crime.
